Citizens' committee's choices:

Four Southport sites suggested for new high school

■ Currently favored site is located southeast of Linden Rd./Jefferson Blvd. intersection

By David Weller

The number of possible sites for a future high school in Southport has been narrowed from 10 to 4 by a site selection committee.

Committee members John Sulpizio and Dan Ramos reported its choices to the school board last night. All the sites still under consideration are located east of Jefferson Blvd.

In response to a question from board member Ardeene Westvik about the possibility of choosing sites in areas other than Southport, Sulpizio answered that the committee was instructed to seek possible 50 acre sites, and that parcels that large are not readily available in the northern half of the city.

Board members ARDEENE WESTVIK, NANCY CANDEE and IRENE EKLUND listen to a presentation by site committee members.

In addition, he explained that the high school would fill prepare the city for future growth, most of which is expected to occur in Southport.

The committee used a scoring system to rank the four remaining locations. The system took into account several considerations, such as safety, accessibility, environment, cost, availability, and political implications.

The top recommendation went to a parcel south of Linden and west of Mohave. The other three locations still under consideration are located to the north of Linden and east of the railroad tracks that run near Jefferson. The fourth-rank location is in area just south of the barge canal slated for the Gateway development housing project. The third is in the area just north of Linden bordering Our Lady of Grace (OLG), a Catholic elementary school. And the number two-ranked parcel lies just to the north of OLG.

After the presentation, Dr. David Miller, superintendent of schools, noted that the state will come close to providing total funding for the school.

According to Miller the state fund can probably be counted on to fund about 15 per cent of the costs, which amounts to about $6 million.

Nine injured in two weekend shootings

By Steve Marschke

A pair of shootings disturbed the weekend for Broderick (northeast area) residents of West Sacramento.

On Saturday at about 4:55 p.m., police were dispatched to Elkhorn Park on Cummins Way after a report that shots had been fired. They found a 13-year old male who had been shot several times with a small caliber handgun, and who is currently in "fair" condition.

"It apparently was a retaliation for a drive-by (shooting) on Greenwood a couple of weeks ago," said Lt. Bruce Muramoto of the West Sacramento Police Department.

Two male suspects, aged 16 and 18, have been arrested in connection with the shooting.

On Sunday at about 6:25 p.m., police were summoned to an incident in front of 514 B Street after another report of shots fired.

Eight people were injured when a suspect discharged a shotgun apparently loaded with "birdshot" or similar light load, said Lt. Muramoto.

"Two people had been in a fistfight in an argument over someone stealing a car," he said. "Other people came out to see what was going on."

The suspect, described as a Hispanic male, 5' 8", 150 pounds, age 35, fired into a crowd of onlookers and missed his intended target, said Muramoto.

But spectators standing about 50 to 150 feet away were injured by the shots.

Police have identified a suspect in the case, he reported, but no arrests have yet been made.

Council changes standards:

Maple St. neighbors get their stop sign

By Steve Marschke

The West Sacramento City Council on Wednesday voted to adopt a new set of standards for intersections to qualify for stop signs -- and those new standards were implemented two days later with a pair of new stop signs at the Michigan Blvd./Maple Street intersection.

A five-year old boy had been killed nearby in a hit-and-run accident this summer nearby, sparking community outrage over the danger of the Michigan/Maple crossing.

'I think we're going to be able to save property damage as well as perhaps save lives.'

Council member Bill Kristoff

Bill Kristoff, the city's mayor pro tem (vice mayor), explained that when the city council voted to adopt the new standards it was also deciding to deviate from those set by Caltrans. This meant possible legal exposure for the city, should someone later sue the city and claim that the changed standards contributed to a traffic accident.

"Part of the issue is to make sure we are in as defensible a position as we can be, and part of it is to help as many of our constituents as we can," he said. "I think we're going to be able to save property damage as well as perhaps save lives."

Kristoff added that aside from the number of vehicles per hour using an intersection, other factors such as visibility, the presence of sidewalks and the presence of schools nearby all must be factored in to a decision on whether an intersection qualifies for stop signs.

"I certainly think that the Maple and Michigan intersection was an area the council thought something should happen," he commented.

Farmers Rice Co-op employee killed in accident

A female employee of the Farmer's Rice Cooperative on Industrial Blvd. was killed in an accident Sunday morning.

The woman, Estorgia Raymundo, became "entangled" when a lift malfunctioned, said police. Her husband, also an employee, was on the premises at the time of the accident.

Officials from the state Occupational Safety and Health Administration are investigating the accident, a police spokesman said Tuesday.

'Molotov cocktails' thrown at Hardy Dr. home

Police are investigating an arson attempt after two Molotov cocktails were thrown at a Hardy Dr. residence early Monday morning.

A resident heard a car horn and a screech of tires and then saw that one of the firebombs was burning against a wooden fence, said Police Lt. Ron Moore. The fire was extinguished.

Moore said the resident had received threatening phone calls earlier in the day.

The incident occurred about 3:50 a.m.

School board hears ideas on how to spend $53 per student

Suggestions include musical instruments, computer equipment for journalism class, leaving it up to teachers

By David Weller

The Washington Unified School Board took suggestions from the public last night on how to spend a $270,000 budget allocation from the state of California.

The district expects to receive about $53 per student, which can be spent only on one-time expenses such as deferred maintenance, instructional materials, or education technology.

No decision was made at the public hearing.

Among the audience members who participated in the public hearing, the first and most specific proposal came from River City journalism student Rishi Sharma.

"The press has long been a key part of a successful, and democratic, society in the United States. Journalists all over the world have long prided themselves on the fact that they inform the public of those things which concern them.

"The journalism program at River City lacks the basic equipment necessary for excellent journalism, and the basic equipment to provide experience and training that students need to take into the 21st century work place," he told the board.

'We all agreed in our group that the person who can best identify the need is the classroom teacher. The surest way to ensure that the money reaches the kids is to give it to the classroom teacher.'

Hal Williams

He also said that "the journalism program posseses one hand-me-down computer, which is incapable of supporting the programs essential for publishing a newspaper."

In his proposal he asked for $10,000 to go to the journalism department, which includes $4,000 for an IBM compatible computer, $3,000 for a high-resolution laser printer, $500 for software, $200 for tape recorders, $1,000 for a scanner, $800 for a computer compatible camera, $200 for a light table (to be constructed on campus), $300 for additional supplies.

The second speaker, former school board president Hal Williams, who said he was speaking for a committee of eight school teachers which decided that it would like to see 25 percent of the money go to libraries and 10 percent to be placed in a mini-grant program.

Williams said that he personally would like to see money go to buy instruments for the district's music program. "Mr. Pearsol, the music teacher, is in dire need of instruments. It seems to me if a child is to have a well-rounded education, we need to provide those instruments," he said.

In addition he said that his unofficial committee agreed that the teachers should be allowed to decide how to spend the money.

"We all agreed in our group that the person who can best identify the need is the classroom teacher. The surest way to ensure that the money reaches the kids is to give it to the classroom teacher."

Ellen Hines, who chairs the River City math department, proposed that if the money were allocated to the teachers at $500 or $600 a piece, they could pool their shares to make large pictures as they deem necessary.

Among the comments from the board members was a suggestion from Ardeene Westvik that the money should be spent on something that would have a long-term effect. "It seems to me the criteria should be that we zero in on particular areas," she said.

Police prostitution sweep leads to seven arrests

Seven "johns" -- male customers of prostitutes -- were arrested in a police sweep Thursday evening.

Most of the men were from out of town, and police decoys helped to catch them soliciting sex in West Sacramento's downtown, said Police Lt. Ron Moore.

From the County Public Health Dept.:

Take precautions against rabies

From Department of Public Health Yolo County

Within the last three weeks, the Yolo County Department of Public Health has had three animals tested that were positive for rabies. One was a bat in the north west area of Davis at a residence. One was a bat at a commercial property north of Woodland. The last was a skunk found dead in a dog run on County Road 97, east of Davis.

Rabies is a viral disease affecting the central nervous system. It is transmitted from infected mammals to man usually by bites, but scratches and saliva contact with broken skin are also possible routes.

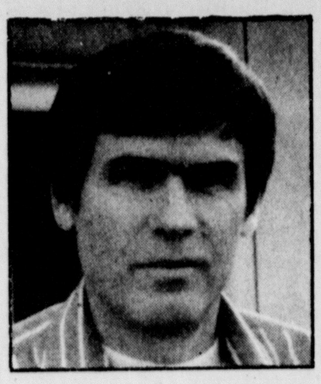

Exposure of a person to a rabid animal does not always result in rabies. If preventive treatment is obtained promptly following a rabies exposure, rabies will be prevented. Once symptoms of rabies develop, the disease is fatal.

It is also critical to keep dogs and cats, four months or age and older, current on their rabies vaccination. An animal's first shot is good for one year. All subsequent vaccinations are usually good for three year's duration.

Any known contact between wild animals, especially bats, skunks, pets, livestock or people should be reported to Yolo County Environmental Health at 666-8646 or Animal Services at 666-8745.

In partial defense of Don Juan, who loved often

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

One day last winter, a work friend of mine (I'll call her Teri) who was taking an English literature class two nights a week at CSUS, asked me if I happened to know anything about the great Romantic Poets. "Which ones?" I asked her, trying to buy myself a little thinking time.

"Lord Byron, mostly," she said.

"Not really," I admitted.

"Well," she said, obviously unimpressed with my lack of knowledge of long dead English poets, "I have to write this big paper on Don Juanism -- which I've almost finished -- but my professor wants me to include something on how the Romantic Poets viewed him -- especially Lord Byron."

"Really?"

"Yeah," she said, "and I just hate reading Byron."

"How come?"

"Because he always makes his main character into one of those bigger than life Byronic heroes of his -- you know -- moody, passionate, mysterious, and with a self-generated moral code that stands totally outside all the ordinary criteria of good and evil."

"What's wrong with that?" I asked like a fool.

"Everything!" she said with conviction. "Especially if we're talking about a pathetic excuse for a human being like Don Juan."

As we talked on, Teri openly wondered why a legendary hero like Don Juan -- who reportedly spent the majority of his adult life trying to love, possess, conquer and consume every women he encountered -- could have possibly inspired so many great writers, poets and musicians -- among them such giants as Milton, Dumas, Mozart and Byron.

"Aren't you being a little tough on the poor guy?" I finally said. "I mean, I think there's a lot to be learned from reflecting on the life and times of Don Juan."

"Like what?"

"Like what it was like to be a nobleman living in Seville back in the 1300's," I cautiously suggested.

"What else?"

"Well," I said with hesitation, "like what love is -- and maybe what it isn't."

"You've got to be kidding," said Teri with surprise. "What could Don Juan have possibly known about love? He was nothing but a legendary womanizer."

"But I don't think Don Juan went from woman to woman because of any particular inability on his part to love," I said. "Maybe he was just never lucky enough to bump into the right person?"

"But he bumped into just about every woman in Spain!" exclaimed Teri.

"Well," I said, quickly searching for a more believable explanation and luckily recalling part of an old Camus quote, "then maybe he just thought it wasn't essential to love rarely in order to love well?"

"You know," said Teri with genuine pity in her eyes, "now that kind of reasoning is just so typical of you men -- and by the way -- it's also one of the main reasons why so many of you end up getting thrown into the bowels of hell."

NOTE: And while I'm on the subject of romance, I think I'll pass along the contents of a very interesting overseas letter which somehow -- and if you ask me, very suspiciously -- arrived on the desk of Steve Marschke, the editor of the News-Ledger, last week. It appears to be from a very nice young lady named Aleksandra who lives in far away Poland. She writes: "I'm beautiful girl, 21-years-old, blond, never married. I like travel, seek man 21-51 for marriage, friendship, or love" (apparently in that order). Anyway, if any of you Don Juans out there should be interested, Aleksandra requests that you send a letter and a photo to; Aleksandra, PO Box 42, 82-300 Elblag 1 Poland. Now I ask you -- is this a full-service local newspaper or what?

Tower Records break-in:

Suspects nabbed in 'hacking' case

The Yolo County District Attorney's Office, the feds, and the West Sacramento Police Department combined forces to arrest two men in a computer "hacking" crime against Tower Records, the D.A.'s office announced last week.

On July 22, Tower's parent company, M.T.S., reported to West Sacramento police that someone had violated their computer system. "Hackers" operating from home computers had accessed customers' credit card numbers and downloaded them for possible resale.

M.T.S. is headquartered in West Sacramento, with retail outlets in Sacramento.

Lt. Bruce Muramoto worked with D.A.'s investigators Kelli O'Neill and Peter Martin (who are members of the High Technology Crime Investigators Association) and also with personnel from the state Department of Justice, the FBI and Secret Service.

The agents worked with Tower representatives, examining computer printouts and talking to computer experts.

"There are so many possibilities in a hacking case," O'Neill was quoted in a D.A.'s office press release. "We had to determine the most likely way they got in so that our search could be narrowed."

The task force obtained search warrants when a likely suspect was identified, working with UC Davis police because of possible university connections. On Aug. 8, they obtained arrest warrants for former Berkeley roommates Michael Yu Kim, 20, and Terry Patrick Ewing, 21, on five counts of unauthorized computer access, unauthorized credit card access and conspiracy.

The crimes are punishable by up to a $10,000 fine and nine years in state prison.

The defendants were arraigned in Yolo County on Aug. 19. The U.S. Attorney's Office, working with the county, filed similar charges on Sept. 15.

"The investigation was an excellent example of police work in the '90s," the press release quoted Chief Deputy D.A. Mark Jones. "All of these agents and the security and technical people from Tower Video should be commended for the way they divided up the tasks and got this job done in near record time. Because of their quick work, it appears the credit card information was retrieved before it could be used."

EIR for sewer plant faces delay; more time needed to respond to concerns

From the City of West Sacramento

The previously scheduled October 4 city council hearing on the Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) has been cancelled and will be rescheduled to a date uncertain at this time.

While work continues on the production of a Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR) for the proposed wastewater treatment plant in Southport, progress has been delayed from the original estimate of an October meeting date. Additional time is needed in order to thoroughly address the issues raised by citizens and other interested parties. The consultants are currently working on a time table for publication of the FEIR.

The FEIR is the next step in a process that began in 1989 to locate a replacement wastewater treatment plant in the City. The site analyzed in the EIR is an area south of Bevan Road and west of Gregory Avenue. Discharge from the plant would continue to be from our existing outfall in the Sacramento River between Freeport and Clarksburg.

The EIR process was created in order to inform decision makers and interested parties of the possible impacts of a particular proposal. EIR's typically provide a worst case scenario to gauge the maximum impact of a proposal. This EIR utilized a land extensive design and conservative water flow patterns to analyze the impacts and ways they could be mitigated.

Once the concerns have been addressed, a Final EIR will be published. As with all FEIR's, the City intends to have the document in circulation for 20 to 30 days before any hearings are held on its contents. This time frame, while not required, is intended to allow time for interested parties to review the document before it is acted on. Notification of the availability of the FEIR and notices of hearings will be published and mailed to commentors.

The 49ers might be looking for a new kicker after losing on Monday night against the 0-3 Detroit Lions 27-24.

49ers kicker Doug Brien had a chance to send the game into overtime, but missed a 40-yard attempt in the fourth quarter as time expired. Their punter Tommy Thompson will probably be looking for a new job after averaging 31 yards a punt!

The 49ers held Barry Sanders to 21 yards on 17 carries, but the Lions played very well, beating the 49ers at their own short passing game. Lions' QB Scott Mitchell used a quick, three-step drop back, then released the ball quickly, completing 28 of 42 passes for 291 yards and one touchdown.

The 49ers, who are 16 point favorites, are at home next Sunday for a 1 p.m. game against the 1-3 New York Giants.

Don't look now, but the St. Louis Rams are in first place in the Western Division after beating the Bears 34-28 and improving their record to 4-0.

The Raiders (3-1) came back from a 17-0 deficit in the first ten minutes of the game against Philadelphia to embarass the Eagles 48-17 in Oakland. The Raiders defense was excellent, sacking the QB seven times and forcing the Eagles into five turnovers, which led to two defensive touchdowns!

The Raiders travel to New York on Sunday to play the Jets on the TNT 5 p.m. game.

The Giants and A's are out of contention for the playoffs and are playing their rookies, so it's wait until next year for Bay Area baseball fans!

Boxing returned to Sacramento last Saturday with a WBC Championship fight at the Sacramento Convention Center.

Featherweight Champion Alejandro Gonzales lost his title to Manuel Medina of Tijuana, Mexico, on a split decision.

The bout was televised live on CBS, but was witnessed by only 362 paid boxing fans.

The Sacramento Knights begin the best of three playoffs on Thursday, Oct.5 at the Arco Arena at 7:30 p.m.

See ya next week!!

In the second quarter, R.C.'s Brady Tacdol intercepted a pass and ran it back 93 yards for a touchdown, extending the lead to 20-0. In the fourth, Felix Timas scored on a 2-yard run on a quarterback keeper and Floyd passed to Adam Wickliffe for the conversion to stretch the lead even further, 28 to 0. With 3:06 left in the game, Vanden scored on a 1-yard run to end the scoring at River City 28, Vanden 6.

On offense, Dominique Alpers had 45 yards; Malcom Floyd, 36 yards; Felix Timas, 30 yards; Alfredo Rodriguez, 29 yards; William Snow, 7 yards; Gilbert Savala, 6 yards; Adam Wickliffe, 6 yards; and Vincent Bablizan, 2 yards.

Head coach Chris Baker said, "This is such a big win for our program. Our team really responded well this week. I'm so very proud and happy for the kids. A lot of credit also has to go to my staff -- Leo Ellis, Willie Brown, Gabe Jimenez and Tyrone Johnson. It feels so satisfying. Credit should also go to our parents and community for their loyal support; it is genuinely appreciated."

This Thursday, the Raiders will travel to Lincoln for another league game. Game time is 6 p.m. Come to Lincoln and support your team. River City's record overall is 2-1 and 1-1 in league play.

OPINION

News-Ledger Editorial

Musings on school district questions

The school board was technically correct in pointing out that it has not officially decided to seek a 1996 bond measure to build a new high school.

But of course the board has authorized both design work and site selection efforts for the new school, which is designed to replace River City High School while allowing crowded Golden State Middle School to move to the current R.C.H.S. site. All of this means, of course, that board members are at least "very interested" in setting the groundwork for a new bond measure try.

Two such measures have failed in the past few years.

The challenge, as everyone knows, is this:

West Sacramento is a tough place to pass a school bond measure. First and foremost, it has a large collection of seniors who do not have school-age children, and who see no direct benefit for themselves for helping to pay for a new high school.

There is also not a lot of disposable income in West Sacramento compared too, say, Davis, which has a hard time saying no to anything its school district asks for.

Community values are also not entirely favorable. Relatively few parents in West Sacramento are as active in their children's education as they should be. (As for those who are: bless 'em!)

Also in school matters:

The school board listened to presentations on how to spend a one-time $270,000 fund.

One presentation was eloquently made by Rishi Sharma, a student in the new journalism class at River City (and whose byline can be found tucked within these pages today).

Sharma asked for a $10,000 grant for computer equipment for the program.

Because the News-Ledger is so closely involved with the program, it's really not appropriate for the newspaper to offer a view on this proposal.

But surely the school board will see an opportunity. Given their frequent dissatisfaction with the quality of the local press, how better to improve things than to invest in future journalists?

Write to "Linus" and "Mary Jo". They would love to hear from you. Write a short letter to them about any of your likes or dislikes. It could be at school, home, with your friends or neighbors. Tell them about anything that either bugs you or makes you happy. We promise not to tell who you are, but we would like you to sign your first name or nickname, age and state.

Dear Mary Jo: I would like to stay up later than 8:00 or 8:30. My mom thinks I should go to bed then. My dad lets me stay up late. What should I do? – Christy, age 10, California
Dear Christy: Staying up late at your age is not good for your health and effects how you feel the next day in school. I am sure your dad wants to please you by letting you stay up late but he would probably really prefer you go to bed earlier if he thinks about what is really best for you. Perhaps you and your parents can agree on a reasonable time by discussing it together. Try it! - Mary Jo

Dear Mary Jo and Linus: I got big feet. Will this keep me from getting a boyfriend? – Valerie, age 8, North Dakota
Dear Valerie: Your inward beauty is the most important of all, and remember, beauty is in the eye of the beholder. Chances are that if you are a nice person, take care of your appearance, and you are friendly, happy, outgoing and generally fun to be with, you'll have all the boyfriends you'll want! – Mary Jo and Linus

Dear Linus: I am only three feet tall and I am growing very slow, but I am almost 12 years old. Some the kids laugh and kid me about it. It bothers me. My mom says not to get mad or feel bad. What should I say when they tease me? – Shorty, age 11-3/4, New York
Dear Shorty: Tell them that you are happy being smaller. Many of the world's smartest and most successful people are short. Size has nothing to do with how people admire and respect you when you get older. It is what you do with your life that counts. If you are still concerned, you might want to talk further with your mom and your doctor. - Linus

Dear Mary Jo: My brother has warts on his hand. Can I get them from him? What causes them? – Stacey, age 9, Nevada
Dear Stacey: Doctors tell us that warts can be caught from another under certain conditions. Your brother may want to see a doctor and have his warts removed completely. They are removable! Ask your parents to consult a doctor about this.
- Mary Jo

Rallies soon move to 7th period in the gym with optional attendance

By Rishi Sharma
StaffWriter

After a long summer vacation, students were thrust back into the school year with the Renaissance Rally on September 8th. The change in the over all spirit and morale of the rally improved by leaps and bounds. The rally, one of many this year, was held out doors on the football field. However, this policy may soon be changing at River City. After the homecoming rally on October 20 all rallies will be held indoors during 7th period as optional rallies.

The rallies will be open to all students at River City who wish to attend, and those students with 7th period classes will be let out to go to the rally. Much like last year, the indoor rallies will be run by the leadership class, and will focus on several themes including Renaissance, Homecoming, and the sports programs.

The response from the leadership class on the rallies was as mixed as the class itself. Carol Avina, in opposition to the 7th period rally schedule asked, "What about all those people who have to work, and can't stay for 7th period, including the athletes." In support of the new rally schedule, sophomore class representative Raman Bola said, "I think it's great, now only the people who want to be there will be there, and not all the goof offs."

The Commissioners of Rallies, Heather Mayhew and Cassie Hawkins, have been able to convince Ms. Johnson and Dr. White to keep the first two rallies outdoors. When spring comes around we'll see if they can do it again.

First rally a success:

Top ten seniors are announced

By Mirthala Santizo
StaffWriter

ASB President Sehn Saelee, a senior, thought that the first rally of the 1995/1996 school year was a good start. "The freshman class was really supportive of their color. All the classes did well," he said. "One thing I really liked was the way Renaissance announced everything." The rally's theme was "Renaissance is a Scream," and was coordinated by the Commissioners of Rallies: Seniors Heather Mayhew and Cassie Hawkins.

The rally started with the traditional Senior Walk to "It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday" by Boyz II Men. After the seniors sat down, Renaissance Advisor Mr. Wernsman talked about the Renaissance program. He introduced the top ten highest GPA holders of the senior class in order: Arsalan Yusufzai, Senh Saelee, Shelly Taunk, Sean High, Raquel E. Peralta tied with Christian Tillmanns, Shafak Pervez, Kammy Ujager, Bounthay Bouttavong and Mirthala Santizo.

He also introduced the members of the Gold Team in Renaissance: Judit Campos, Clancy Dollard, Alonzo Garcia, Chris Hasegawa, Douangchahn Lattasima, Cathy Leal, Bethany Monroe, Khonthavy Phouanglasy, Sarom Phoung, Jason Potnick, Meuy Saechao, Senh Saelee, Rishi Sharma, Sarah Sorbello, Shelly Taunk, Justin Wood,and Arsalan Yusufzai.

Commissioner of Rallies Cassie Hawkins said that they're going to try to make more interesting games and some that aren't confusing. She also said that they will probably bring back the Tug-of-War game so that there's more competition between the classes.

The cheerleaders performed a dance called Scream which had a mix of Michael Jackson's songs. At the end of the rally the Commissioner of Spirit, Courtney Myers, announced that the winner of the rally was the Senior class.

Faith Hiatt, a senior, said, "I liked the rally. But what I liked the most is the Senior Walk. But I think that we need to get a better sound system."

Adam Wickliffe, a freshman, thought that the rally was very different from Golden State Middle School. He liked the rally because he was able to get out of class, but one thing that he didn't like was that some of the upperclassmen were rude to the freshman class. "I think that the rallies should be optional during 7th period," he said, "then we can see who's really spirited."

Cassie Hawkins agrees with Adam. "I think that the rallies should be during 7th period for that reason," she said, "then the people that don't want to be there don't have to."

Welcome aboard:

New teachers say River City High is great

By Carolina Avina
StaffWriter

River City High School hired five new teachers this year: Ms. Brite, Mrs. Richey, Ms. Heller, Ms. Ransom, and Ms. Costanza.

All five of these young women bring to RC a rich and bright way of teaching. They are enthusiastic about joining our teaching staff.

What are we to expect from them? Nothing but enthusiasm and energy. These teachers are ready to do more than just sit in the classroom. They want to go out there and get involved.

Ms. Brite, in addition to teaching history and government/economics she is our new girls varsity basketball coach. She says,"I want to get as many girls involved in sports as I can, and give the girls teams the attention they deserve." Ms. Brite is also our new senior advisor. She is really looking forward to the rest of the school year.

Ms. Costanza, aside from teaching an English class and key boarding,, is currently coaching the girls volleyball team. Ms. Costanza, better known as Cathy, is not quite a stranger to RC. She has been coaching girls basketball for three years and the volleyball team for two years. She also did some subbing last year and taught summer school.

Both teachers enjoy teaching as well as coaching. They find some differences. Ms. Costanza says, "The relationship of an athlete and a coach is closer than that of the teacher and the student." Yet they both agree that some of the coaching is teaching and some of the teaching is coaching.

Mrs. Richey is also interested in becoming involved in sports sometime this year, but for the time being she enjoys getting to know her new students in her English classes.

Mrs. Richey has been teaching now for two years, previously at Rancho Cordova. She mentioned that students here compare favorably with Ranch Cordova despite what rumors might say. "Obviously the things that you hear about River City and the things you hear about West Sacramento are not true," she says. Mrs. Richey finds the students of RC to be more civil and to have a greater respect for authority.

Another of our first-year teachers is Ms. Heller, who teaches English 102 and ESL classes. Becoming a teacher was more of a rebellious act for her. She said her father didn't quite agree with her becoming a teacher, so she became a teacher. She says, "I like it a lot. It's really fun, and in seven years, who knows? But for now I'm enjoying it."

Just as all the other new teachers, Ms. Ransom, the new addition to our math department, has great expectations of our school and this school year.

All these teachers gave nothing but good reviews of River City. The students here have been great and the staff is of great help, say the new teachers of RC.

Fall semester Renaissance enrollment

120 students earn recognition for grades, attendance and citizenship

By Bethany Monroe
StaffWriter

A record-breaking 120 students were accepted into Renaissance this semester based on grades, attendance, and citizenship from the spring of 1995.

Renaissance is a program that rewards students who achieve good grades, attendance records, and good citizenship marks.

Khonthavy Phouanglasy says,"I like being in Renaissance because they support you for getting good grades."

The program encourages all students who have completed at least one semester of classes at River City High School to apply. When accepted, Renaissance students are rewarded with various goodies throughout the semester. Some of the activities are ice cream socials, pizza parties, popcorn and movie parties, merchandise coupons from businesses throughout the area, croissant parties, drawings for free prizes, and a survival kit for finals week.

Besides being rewarded for good grades and attendance, there are other important things about being in Renaissance.

Arsalan Yusufzai observed, "Renaissance rewards you for academic excellence, but also looks good on your college application and recognition."

Angela Mochel, in Renaissance for the first time says,"It influences me to keep up my grades."

So, Renaissance is not just a club that gives you prizes and free food.

All teachers encourage students to reach the goal of being eligible for the Renaisance program, especially the freshmen, who have to wait till spring semester to join.

Remember, students only need an increase of .5 in their grade point aberage, at least 90% attendance, and no suspensions or detentions to be eligible for the blue level. So, make this your next goal for this semester.

Peer engineers success

By Raquel De La Paz
StaffWriter

In 1991 the National Academy of Sciences had only 62 women members out of 1601. Many young girls are not influenced by their parents to go into careers in science and engineering.

At River City High School, there is a club called Program for Engineering and Recruitment (PEER). It is an organization that influences women to venture into careers in these fields.

In this club girls are given the opportunity to do hands-on activities involving science and engineering. They go on field trips to places such as colleges, Intel, and Packard Bell to show what kind of careers are available.

If any girls attending River City are interested in joining this group,
Ms. Kuhwarth will be coming around to talk to the freshmen soon. If you miss her or are in another grade you can contact her in the counseling office.

Popular French teacher back from Monterey

By Rishi Sharma
StaffWriter

After a one year leave of absence from River City, Mrs. Connolly has returned to resume her role as the sole instructor of French on campus.

Last September, after an emotional and sad good-bye, Mrs. Connolly left River City never expecting to return. Her husband secured a job in Monterey, California, where she promptly moved with her husband and two boys. When asked about what she did in Monterey, Mrs. Connolly replied, "fun and recreation along with teaching a special-ed class in the spring." According to Mrs. Connolly the most fun part about Monterey was spending so much time with her two children.

"I missed her, and I am glad to have her back, but I enjoyed Mrs. Furlong, too."
-- Sean High

Mrs. Connolly returned to the valley this summer to resume her role as French teacher here at River City. She said that she really missed River City, that it felt like being home, and that she was happy to be back. Although Mrs. Connolly has returned, she will be going on maternity leave in January. After that Mrs. Connolly plans to stay as long as she is needed.

The student response at the return of Mrs. Connolly is one of sheer happiness. While in Monterey, she received numerous letters and phone calls from her students. Echoing the thoughts of many students, Sean High, an AP French student said, "I missed her, and I am glad to have her back, but I enjoyed Mrs. Furlong too."

French II student, Marie Vasi said, "We are all so glad to have her back, we are all excited about her upcoming baby." Mrs. Connolly clearly possesses the love and admiration of her students whether they be in French 1 or AP French.

Supreme Court decision affects high school athletes

Drug testing of RC athletes unlikely, says vice principal

By Rishi Sharma
Staff Writer

On June 26 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in a 6 to 3 decision that high schools, like River City, can conduct random drug testing among high school athletes. The ruling stems from a lawsuit brought on behalf of a 12-year-old attending the Veronia School District in Oregon. The student had refused to participate in a random drug test and was thrown out of the sports program. A federal court had ruled in his favor, citing that the 4th Amendment protected his right to privacy. The Supreme Court, however, overturned this decision, saying that in the war against drugs such measures are necessary. This ruling opens the door for every high school in the United States of America to begin random drug testing among its athletes.

In an interview, RC Vice Principal Mr. Whittemore expressed a concern about the continuing pattern that this ruling follows. It was Mr. Whittemore's observation that testing was started on professional athletes, it then went on to include college athletes, and due to the Supreme Court ruling, high school athletes can now be tested for drugs. One must ask, who is next?

Another concern expressed by Mr. Whittemore was the nature of any random drug testing. Would the drug testing be conducted to find and locate drug users so they can be prosecuted, or to assist them in ending this involvement with drugs? Mr. Whittemore stated that he would be strongly against drug testing if it were for punitive purposes. He stated that the administration was not a police agency, and that we should be putting trust back in our kids, not taking it away.

Vice Principal Ken Whittemore believes we should be putting trust back in our kids, not taking it away.

Currently there are drug prevention programs on campus, including Magdaline Zogulopolous, a counselor from Yolo County. Mr. Whittemore said that this program, like all others, is not completely successful, but the program is being improved.

When asked about the severity of the drug problem here at River City Mr. Whittemore said that our problem generally reflects that of society. He also stated that our problem is less than many other schools.

There was a mixed response from students on the issue of random drug testing. "What students do before and after school reflects upon the school," says Carol Avina in support of the ruling. With mixed feelings about the ruling Tashawna Sumner said, "What the staff doesn't know will not hurt them, it will only hurt the drug users in the long run." In complete opposition to the ruling Tamy Olt said, "What a student does on their own free time is none of the school's business."

If random drug testing for athletes is to come about, many problems and concerns will have to be addressed. Mr. Whittemore said that it would cost anywhere from 40 to 50 dollars for each specimen to be tested, and currently there are no federal or state funds available for randomly drug testing athletes.

In these times of budget cutbacks and lay-offs, can we afford to do random drug tests? Along with the cost, any policy to bring about random drug testing for athletes would be have to be supported and approved by the school board. There have been no proposals to begin the process of making a policy so we probably won't be seeing random drug testing for athletes any time in the near future.

Everyone's reading for 13 minutes a day, whether they like it or not

By Mirthala Santizo
Staff Writer

Sustained Silent Reading (SSR): is it working? The students at River City are now reading for 13 minutes in the beginning of 3rd period. The question is, is it an effective idea and is it working?

Mr. Loforte, R.C. biology teacher, said, "I think it's an idea that has merit." He wants students to be reading whatever they want.

Niki Hussein, 12th grader, thinks that it's an effective idea, but she thinks that it should be longer. Senior Zerguy Manzouddin also believes that the 13 minutes is too short.

R.C.'s Principal Dr. White said that the 13 minutes is an adequate amount of time to keep students interested in what they are reading.

"We want to improve reading," she said. "Ideally, I want to see them [R.C. students] read something for pleasure instead of a textbook." She also said that too few of our students know the inside of a book and she would like to change that.

Other students like SSR for other reasons. Moses Cushing, an 11th grader, said, "I like it because it's quiet. It's not noisy and our school is always loud."

Douangchanh Lattasima, a 10th grader, thinks that it will help our reading scores.

Although some students don't like reading, SSR is intended to help our readings scores. Ryan Belflower, who reads National Geographic during that time, likes it because he gets to read "a lot of neat things."

Vice Principal Mr. Whittemore commented, "I love it. It helps a lot."

Mrs. Green, English Department Chairperson, said, "I think that it's a good idea so far, but it's too soon to see if it's effective. It seems to be working so far."

Well, so far people seem to be generally positive about SSR and they like the new program. Hopefully, this new program can help students find reading more enjoyable.

Teens create AIDS prevention messages

Death of 'Cheech' Cicinato spurs local students to activism

By Melissia Mejia
Staff Writer

Tim "Cheech" Cicinato, lived with AIDS for 13 years. Cheech was a once- in-a-lifetime-type of person, not because he had AIDS, but because he was full of energy. After Cheech found out he had AIDS, he dedicated his life to teaching as many young people about AIDS as he could. He devoted the rest of his life to AIDS prevention.

Cheech worked for the Names Project, which is the AIDS Victims Memorial Quilt. He helped coordinate World AIDS Day 1994, and he also started Kids' Day at the Quilt. Besides the Names Project, Cheech also volunteered almost all of his extra time to go to schools and talk directly to youth about AIDS.

He even received a letter of recognition from the President before he died. Cheech touched many lives. It's a shame AIDS took his.

Although he is no longer here, Cheech's spirit lives on through the people who are trying to fight the battle against AIDS.

Some of these people are teens and adults around the country, who are developing AIDS Prevention Messages. How are they doing this? The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, (CDC), has set up five project sites across the U.S. to develop AIDS prevention messages. The messages are being targeted towards 14 to 25-year-olds. Each of the five sites selects a specific target age, and researches this group.

Sacramento is one of the CDC's five sites. At the Sacramento site, there is a Youth Advisory Committee who discusses problems in their area to help produce prevention messages. The teens involved are from Sacramento and West Sacramento.

The CDC has all-site meetings, in which all of the sites come together at one site to discuss their progress. The last meeting was held in Virginia. For the first time, youth from each site were invited to attend.

So, for Cheech, and all the other people who have died from AIDS, people care and are continuing to fight the battle for you.

You will be missed dearly.

Soccer teams need the school's support

By Carolina Avina
Staff Writer

River City soccer kicks off the new season with new players and with its usual effort that will make RC proud.

This seasons's soccer team is ready to "kick some butt," thanks to pre-season conditioning. The players have been practicing since a couple of weeks before school started two hours all week in the hot sun. Soccer coach Mr. Restivo says, "We have been working hard. The players should be real competitive through out the season."

We have the biggest boys soccer team ever: 35 players, half of which are freshmen and sophomores and only seven are seniors.

The freshmen, though newcomers, are not inexperienced. Many of them have played before in league teams in the city. Says Mr. Restivo, "The only problem is that they are not used to playing with one another. They need to work more as a team," he adds.

The jv team has been doing well so far. They have won two out of three scrimmage games. Congratulations, jv. Keep it up!

Varsity has already won its first official game against Encina. They did not win any scrimmage games. The varsity players have been working together for at least two years, but with the late arrivals and the ineligibility of last year's better players because of their grades, our varsity team has to work harder. Good Luck!

One thing that the team is lacking is the shool's support. Coach Restivo says, "We need the school to go cheer us on. If the players see that they have an audience they will start showing off and it will improve our game."

"The games are really interesting," says Adam Medina, center forward for the varsity team.

Team captain Peter Santizo says that our team has really interesting characters that will make you laugh.

The RC soccer teams play every Tuesday and Thursday. Look at your fall sports calendar to check for times and locations.

Frosh football taps 'oldies' for new coaching spots

By Melissia Mejia
Staff Reporter

Eight years ago, River City had a freshman football team. Due to a lack of freshman players, the team was not large enough to compete. This year River City once again has a freshman football team, with 32 cleared players.

According to their coaches, the freshmen are just as hardworking as the jv or the varsity players. After their first scrimmage, Coach Baker said, "The team was very impressive." Since their first scrimmage, the freshman team has won two games, including a recent win over Vanden 28-8, and only lost one.

The freshman team will have ten games, the same number as jv or varsity.

Leo Ellis, a past football coach, came out of a fifteen-year retirement to help coach the freshmen. There are also four other coaches for the team: Head Coach Chris Baker, Offensive Line Coach Gabe Jimenez (who was on the old team), Defensive Coach Willie Brown, and Defensive Back Coach Tyrome Johnson, all former River City varsity players.

Aside from having a great coaching staff, the freshmen are also supported by the community.

Coach Baker stated, "The team has had a lot of support from the Administration."

Put together hardworking freshmen, dynamic coaches, and supportive administration, and you get the River City 95-96 freshman football team.

How to take ownership when you buy property

From the California Land Title Association

How should I take ownership of the property I am buying?

This important question is one California real property purchasers ask their real estate, escrow and title professionals every day. Unfortunately, though these professionals may identify the many methods of owning property, they may not recommend a specific form of ownership, as doing so would constitute practicing law.

Because real property has become increasingly more valuable, the question of how parties take ownership of their property has gained greater importance. The form of ownership taken -- the vesting of title -- will determine who may sign various documents involving the property and future rights of the parties to the transaction. These rights involve such matters as: real property taxes, income taxes, inheritance and gift taxes, transferability of title and exposure to creditor's claims. Also, how title is vested can have significant probate implications in the event of death.

The California Land Title Association (CLTA) advises those purchasing real property to give careful consideration to the manner in which title will be held. Buyers may wish to consult legal counsel to determine the most advantageous form of ownership for their particular situation, especially in cases of multiple owners of a single property.

The CLTA has provided the following definitions of common vestings as an informational overview. Consumers should not relay on these as legal definitions. The Association urges real property purchasers to carefully consider their titling decision prior to closing, and to seek counsel should they be unfamiliar with the most suitable ownership choice for their particular situation.

Common Methods of Holding Title

Sole Ownership

Sole ownership may be described as ownership by an individual or other entity capable of acquiring title. Examples of common vestings in cases of sole ownership are:

1. A Single Man/Woman: A man or woman who has not been legally married. For example, Bruce Buyer, a single man.

2. An Unmarried Man/Woman: A man or woman who was previously married and is now legally divorced. For example, Sally Seller, an unmarried woman.

3. A Married Man/Woman as His/Her Sole and Separate Property: A married man or woman who wishes to acquire title in his or her name alone. The title company insuring title will require the spouse of the married man or woman acquiring title to specifically disclaim or relinquish his or her right, title and interest to the property. This establishes that it is the desire of both spouses that title to the property be granted to one spouse as that spouse's sole and separate property. For example, Bruce Buyer, a married man, as his sole and separate property.

Co-Ownership

Title to property owned by two or more persons may be vested in the following forms:

1. Community Property: A form of vesting title to property owned by husband and wife during their marriage which they intend to own together. Community property is distinguished from separate property, which is property acquired before marriage, by separate gift or bequest, after legal separation, or which is agreed to be owned only by one spouse.

In California, real property conveyed to a married man or woman is presumed to be community property, unless otherwise stated. Since all such property is owned equally, husband and wife must sign all agreements and documents of transfer. Under community property, either spouse has the right to dispose of one half of the community property, including transfers by will. For example, Bruce Buyer and Barbara Buyer, husband and wife as community property.

2. Joint Tenancy: A form of vesting title to property owned by two or more persons, who may or may not be married, in equal interest, subject to the right of survivorship in the surviving joint tenant(s). Title must have been acquired at the same time, by the same conveyance, as the document must expressly declare the intention to create a joint tenancy estate. When a joint tenant dies, title to the property is automatically conveyed by operation of law to the surviving joint tenant(s). Therefore, joint tenancy property is not subject to disposition by will. For example, Bruce Buyer and Barbara Buyer, husband and wife, as joint tenants.

3. Tenancy in Common: A form of vesting title to property owned by an two or more individuals in undivided fractional interests. These fractional interests may be unequal in quantity or duration and may arise at different times. Each tenant in common owns a share of the property, is entitled to a comparable portion of the income from the property and must bear an equivalent share of expenses. Each co-tenant may sell, lease or will to his/her heir that share of the property belonging to him/her. For example, Bruce Buyer, a single man, as to an undivided 3/4 interest and Penny Purchaser, a single woman, as to an undivided 1/4 interest, as tenants in common.

Other ways of vesting title include as:

1. A Corporation*: A corporation is a legal entity, created under state law, consisting of one or more shareholders but regarded under law as having an existence and personality separate from such shareholders.

2. A Partnership*: A partnership is an association of two or more persons who can carry on business for profit as co-owners, as governed by the Uniform Partnership Act. A partnership may hold title to real property in the name of the partnership.

3. As Trustees of A Trust*: A trust is an arrangement whereby legal title to property is transferred by the grantor to a person called a trustee, to be held and managed by that person for the benefit of the people specified in the trust agreement, called the beneficiaries.

4. Limited Liability Companies (L.L.C.): This form of ownership is a legal entity and is similar to both the corporation and the partnership. The operating agreement will determine how the L.L.C. functions and is taxed. Like the corporation its existence is separate from its owners.

*In cases of corporate, partnership, L.L.C. or trust ownership, the title company will require that it be furnished legal documents so that it may satisfy itself as to ownership rights of the parties to the transaction and any limitations which may exist on the sale, transfer, or encumbrance of the property. Required documents may include corporate articles and bylaws, partnership agreements, trust agreements and/or certifications.

Remember: How title is vested has important legal consequences. You may wish to consult an attorney to determine the most advantageous form of ownership for your particular situation.

The Title Consumer is published by the California Land Title Association. Member companies of the California Land Title Association are dedicated to facilitating the transfer of real property throughout California and increasing the public's awareness of the value and purpose of title insurance.

Fat? Sick and Tired?

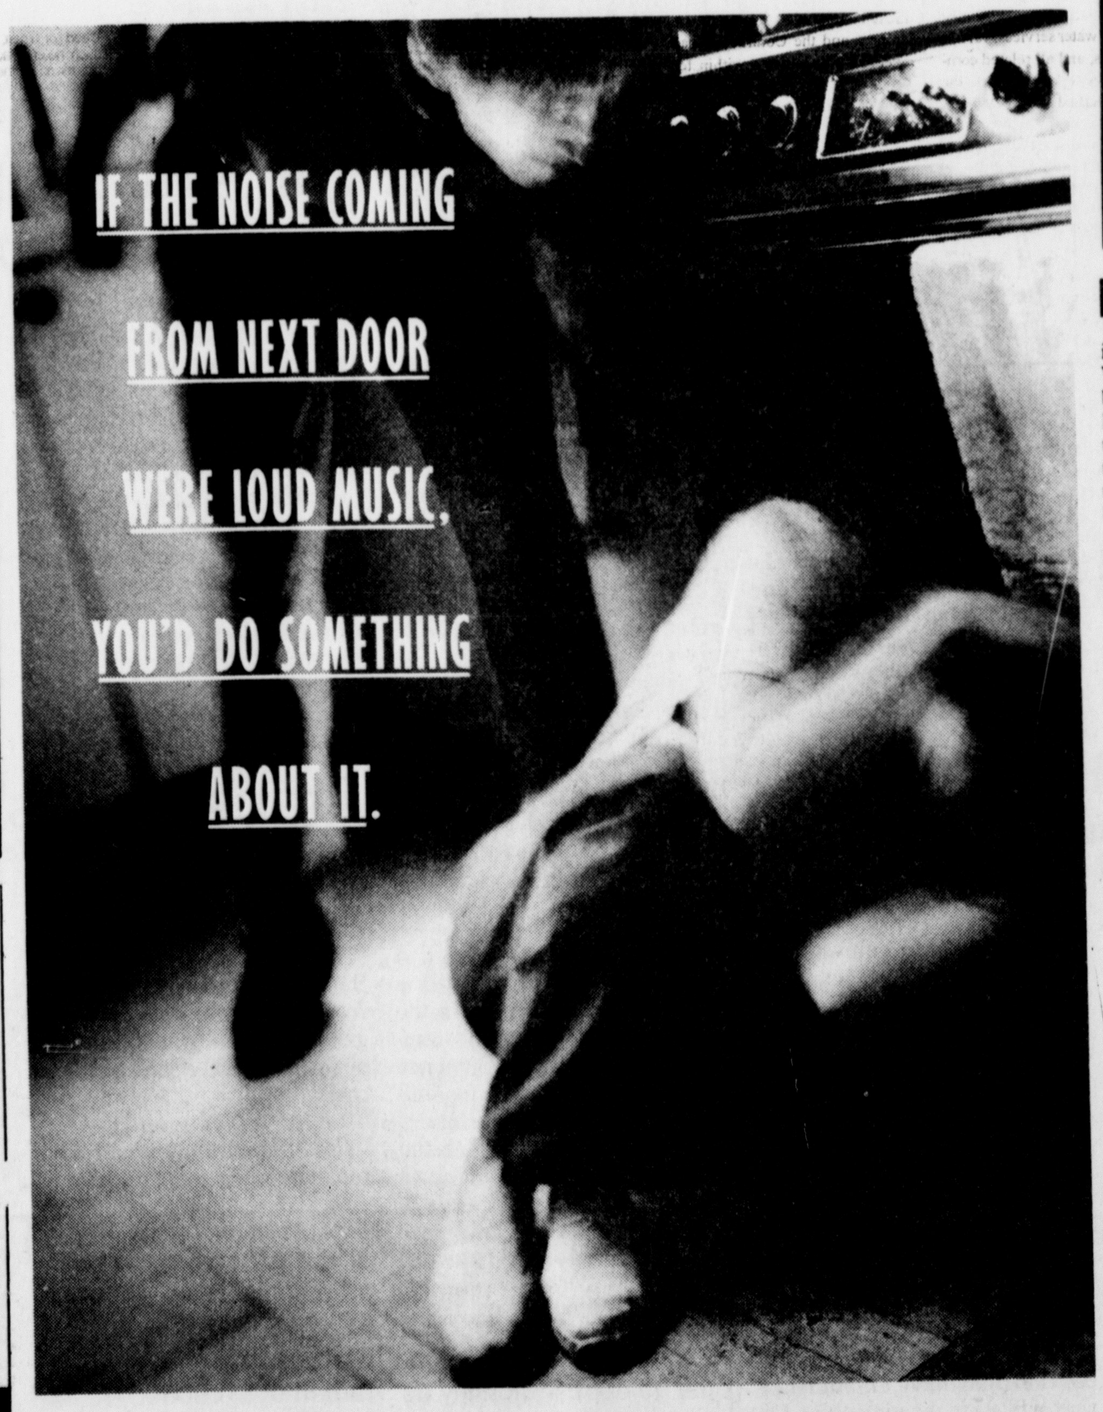

So was I. Overweight, suffering from chronic fatigue, experiencing hair loss, anxiety resulting in heart palpitations, and poor diet attached to a high stress work environment, blah, blah, blah. . . (Sound familiar?)

Well, today I have lost over 50 lbs., I weigh what I did as a high school junior nearly 18 years ago, the hair loss has stopped, the heart problems have ceased, my diet has greatly improved, and I no longer experience the high stress in virtually the same line of business.

This may not work for everyone, but if you want to know how to get off the track to a short life-span and one that may add years to a more productive and healthier life, simply call (800) 836-9180. I will send you a free tape, and personally return your call.

Just a little confusing?

Not everyone coming off the eastbound Enterprise exit from U.S. 50 notices the "not a through street" sign, says Lloyd Hickey, a resident of Valhalla Mobile Home Park, straight ahead on Lake Rd.

Many of them simply exit the freeway and see the "Welcome to the City of West Sacramento" sign straight ahead, next to Lake Rd., and find themselves wandering into the mobile home park looking for the downtown city lights.

Could it be possible to move the "welcome" sign to a location less connected to Lake Rd.. asks Hickey?

GSMS boosters meet Thursday, seek to become non-profit organization

The Golden State Music Boosters of West Sacramento its having its third general membership meeting on Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in the Music Rehearsal Hall at Golden State Middle School.

Any person interested in fostering musical performance among school aged children is invited to attend. The Boosters' goal is to help provide local schools with musical instruments, uniforms, scholarships and trips. Members also help with transportation, uniforms and costumes, membership and fundraising.

"Being a music booster has many rewards," says Duane Anderson, Golden State Middle School's new music director. "Many folks become a member when their child is in the band or the choir but remain active for many years after their child has graduated from high school."

The Golden State Music Boosters will soon be incorporating as a not for profit, tax exempt charitable organization. Once this is done, it will begin seeking support from the community of West Sacramento.

According to Mr. Anderson, the Boosters have plans for making fundraising painless. "The more people involved, the less each of use has to do," says the music director.

For more information, call Mr. Duane Anderson at 392-5678.

Portfest draws 20,000 and $55,000 profit

By Steve Marschke

The chairperson of PortFest '95 said Tuesday that the event held Sept. 16-17 drew about 20,000 people, or "about double last year."

Rose Marie Moore chaired the event as a member of the West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce's board of directors. She owns RMM Engineering, which also performs subcontracting work for the Port of Sacramento.

Moore said the event sponsored jointly by the city government, the chamber and the port, and that she hopes it will continue annually and get "bigger and better."

"The really popular new events were the children's events," she commented, "such as the indoor sandbox, the petting zoo and the animals. It was unfortunate the Mexican ship didn't make it. That was a state department decision. They were turned away from U.S. waters because they didn't have the necessary paperwork."

Moore said that Congressman Vic Fazio helped clear away that last minute snafu, but too late for the ship to participate. Other ships, however, were on hand.

One popular "first" for this year's PortFest was a Saturday night fireworks show -- the only legal fireworks display the city had in 1995.

Another unusual feature was that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers agreed to open the locks connecting the port with the Sacramento River, and allow recreational traffic through them for the first time since 1984.

"Only a few boats came through," reported Moore. "They may not have believed us. We only got the permit at the last minute."

Moore added that the third-annual PortFest is intended to promote public relations for both the port and West Sacramento.

"It is to showcase the Port of Sacramento and the businesses located here, and also to highlight it as one of the biggest features of West Sacramento. We want to highlight ships and water-related activity."

The $55,000 profit from the event will help support the chamber of commerce.

Moore said sponsors will gather at a meeting today to rap up the event and decide whether to do it again next year -- a decision on which she is optimistic.
